SUMMARY

Although many newly constructed maps continue to be held in reproduction or in proof stage, 29 were printed during May for use in CIA reports and in NIS publications. Twenty-two requests for the compilation and construction of new maps were received during the month. A new issue of the Map Research Bulletin was completed and six technical reports, of which four related to boundary questions, were issued to requesters. Three manuscripts for NIS Chapters IX, namely for Alaska, Egypt and Mongolia, are in the last stages of coordinating and editing prior to submittal to D/NIS. Working relations with other components of GRS have improved considerably as the result of the move of part of the Division to Building No. 11.

The number of maps received from foreign countries increased considerably during May. The CIA retained 31 percent of these receipts and distributed the remainder to other appropriate agencies of the Government.
